A resident of the district 63 years. " James Lane was buried in Ouse St John the Baptist Cemetery. [Note: death record has 1 Dec 1885 as date of death, however headstone has 22 Nov 1885] Further: The burial register for the grave of 'James and Annie Lane' shows this to be James Lane Snr, Farmer, and Ann Lane, Farmer's Wife, of Ouse. While the death / burial is said by some to be James Lane and Ann Cummins, this appears to be a case of mistaken identity – possibly originating from records of another William Lane (born c. 1831) who died in Ararat in 1895. This William's death record states that he was a Woodcarter, born in Tasmania, and that his father was James Lane, Farmer. However, on his marriage record to Elizabeth Wright (Lucas) in 1876, it states that William was a Widower, born in NSW, with parents James Lane and Ann Cummins. The confusion over the burial could also be due to James Lane's reported time in the district according to the death notice (ie 63 years, or since 1822). James actually arrived in 1827, however it's likely that the reported 'time in the district' was simply miscalculated (as is the case on many death records depending on the Informant), or perhaps even an attempt to 'hide' a convict past.	TAHO, RGD33/1/54 Death, Hamilton 1885/776 James Lane; The Mercury (Hobart Tasmania), Monday 7 December 1885 p1 (Death Notice James Lane); Genealogical Society of Tasmania, TAMIOT, Hamilton 1885 HA05/00035 James Lane; Gravesites of Tasmania, Ouse Anglican St John of Baptist, Headstone James and Annie Lane (www.gravesoftas.com.au).
